Alongside the Executive Committee and the wider HAFFA membership, which incorporates companies of all sizes, we will work together to increase the competitiveness of our industry through a number of initiatives which will look to address the challenges faced by the logistics sector. I am confident that together we can capture new business opportunities and achieve our goals in ensuring a better trading environment for Hong Kong's logistics industry. We will continue to advocate our members' interests and seek to optimize opportunities for growth. Together with the newly-elected Executive Committee, I look forward to serving our dynamic membership."
